Dear Bill:

I don't know when I spent a more interesting or stimulating evening, and you will forgive me if I add to the burden of your fan mail by taking a moment out to tell you so.

If at some future date your South American desk is interested in the application of [redacted] I will be glad to supply any information desired, although they, of course, will have their own ways of making a check.
His father is a graduate of Yale and is president of [redacted]
I have known the son since he was born, and he is a boy of excellent character and outstanding integrity.

I hope to see more of you this year and only wish that you would give us a ring when you are here some weekend.

Best of luck.

Sincerely,

Edmund S. DeLong
Director
